Royal Oak Radio Priest Back In Headlines Again

DETROIT (AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin is back in the headline limelight today for the first time since 1939. And with him a plea for a guaranteed annual wage and tax exemptions for production-line workers.

In the 1930's Father Coughlin, known as the "Royal Oak Radio Priest" was one of the nation's most controversial public characters.

Silenced By Church

But Catholic superiors silenced him as a public speaker in 1939 after he declared in a radio network speech that membership in the then young CIO United Automobile Workers was inimicable to membership in the church.

And oddly in his first public speech since, Father Coughlin paralleled one of the UAW's major goals in recommending a guaranteed annual wage for hourly-rated workers.

He spoke to Detroit's First Friday Club and drew an audience of 1,100, second largest in its 13-year history. Only Claire Boothe Luce, now U. S. Ambassador to Italy, ever drew more.

Voice Rasp

His voice still deep but raspy, Father Coughlin has confined himself to conducting services at his Shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Royal Oak since he was silenced as a public speaker 14 years ago.

In his Friday talk Coughlin said: "Gentlemen, why dispute and haggle over prices and dollars and credits and costs when a product that proceeds from our factories is wealth?

"And when the factory worker himself is greater than all the wealth which the machines themselves produce?"

Georgia University Newspaper Disrupted By Segregation Row

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Two more editors of the Red and Black, University of Georgia student newspaper which has been torn by a segregation row, have resigned.

Priscilla Arnold of Marietta, acting editor, and Gene Britton of Moultrie, acting managing editor, in Thursday's edition blasted the university for setting up an editorial control board. Then both resigned Friday.

The controversy started over an editorial against segregation in education. Roy Harris of the Board of Regents discussed the editorial with the publication's editors, and the students claimed he had threatened action to cut off the paper's appropriation. Harris denied this, but later called the editors "squirts."

Editor Walter Lundy Jr., and managing editor Bill Shipp resigned Wednesday protesting what they called "a board of control that would throttle our editorial rights." Miss Arnold and Britton were appointed to replace them.

The university announced that a board had been set up to supervise editorial opinion expressed in the publication.

With the latest resignations, only three persons remained on the weekly paper's official staff today.

Editor Condemned

SEOUL (AP)—A South Korean military court today convicted a leading Korean editor of spying for the Communists and sentenced him to death.

The death sentence given Chung Kook Eun, deposed editor of the influential Seoul Yun-Hap Shinmoon, will be reviewed by Defense Minister Sohn Won Il.

NO CHRISTMAS ACROSS THE STREET -- A symbol of hope for residents of East Berlin is this Christmas tree erected between the British and Soviet zones by the West Berlin city government. The lighted tree, standing in front of the Brandenburg Gate, will show that citizens of the free sector haven't forgotten those in the eastern sector on Christmas. The sign at the left reads: "Attention! You are now leaving West Berlin." Atop the Brandenburg Gate flies the Communist flag.

Potter To Request U.N. Investigation Of Red Atrocities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said today he will seek early Senate action on a request for a full-dress United Nations investigation of Communist atrocities in Korea.

Potter concluded a three-day Senate probe of Red atrocities Friday night with an announcement that he could not "conceal my great disappointment in the resolution of censure and the expression of 'grave concern' passed by the United Nations by a vote of 42 to 5."

Inhuman Crimes Cited

He referred to the U. N. General Assembly resolution adopted Thursday. U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. pushed through the resolution over opposition of the Soviet bloc.

Newspaper Tieup Loss In Millions

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York City newspaper strike enters its second week today as negotiators and federal mediators renew their efforts to resolve a deadlocked wage dispute between publishers and photo-engravers.

New Yorkers seemed increasingly lost without any major local daily to read, although television and radio has been striving to fill the news vacuum created by the walkout which started last Saturday.

After Friday's negotiation meetings all parties reported "absolutely no change" in the situation.

Later in the day, officials of striking Local 1 of the AFL International Photo-Engravers Union and other unions affected by the walkout held a two-hour session.

After it ended Thomas Murphy, executive vice president of CIO Newspaper Guild Local 3 commented:

"Things look no better today than last week and they were bad then."

The strike, especially during this pre-holiday season, has caused losses in merchandising, advertising and wages running into many millions of dollars.

Civil Defense Maps Michigan Disaster Traffic Control Plan

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Civil Defense Office will begin next year to build master plans for the control and handling of highway traffic in time of natural or war-caused disaster.

Capt. C. L. Van Blankenstein, state civil defense director, said a school would open here Monday for 30 members of the State Police Traffic Division, Highway Department engineers and Public Service Commission transportation officers.

After one week of schooling, Capt. Van Blankenstein said, the "students" will be assigned to drafting basic plans for mass traffic controls in critical target areas of Michigan.

The training course, he said, includes establishment of priority and dispatching controls for civil defense, necessary industrial and military vehicles.

Big 3 Agree To Arrange Conference With Soviets

Kyes Says U. S. Is Trimming Off Military Fat

DETROIT (AP)—While pressing expense cuts, Deputy Secretary Roger Kyes says the defense department is clearly aware that its real job is to provide our nation with a completely adequate system."

Kyes told the Detroit Aircraft Club Friday night that millions of dollars are being saved by trimming "off fat wherever it hampers the strength of our military muscle."

And, at the same time, he said combat capabilities of the armed forces is being improved.

New Bomber Faster

Kyes, a former General Motors Corp. vice president, disclosed in his speech that the new B52 heavy bomber is faster than the medium B47 which has flown 656 miles an hour.

Thereafter the Defense Department had refused to indicate the speed of the new bomber. Kyes disclosed it was speedier than the B47 in reporting that "excellent" progress is being made in getting the big eight-jet Boeing bomber into production.

He said first production models would be delivered late next year. Each engine develops more than 10,000 pounds of thrust, compared with 5,800 pounds developed by each of the B47's six.

Waste Big Problem

It weighs 300,000 pounds, fully fueled and armed, has a wingspan of 185 feet and is 153 feet long.

Kyes pointed out that Lt. and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, his former boss in General Motors, had been in office just 10 months.

Then apparently taking cognizance of Democratic criticism of what some party leaders have described as an "impossible policy" of more defense for fewer dollars, Kyes said:

"Neither we nor you have the slightest intention of trading national safety for dollars, untaxed, unappropriated, or unspent."

He added: "Tax dollars which pay for waste contribute exactly nothing to national defense."

Airpower Boosted

Referring to reorganization of the joint chiefs of staff, for which the Eisenhower administration has appointed a whole new membership, Kyes continued:

"A number of strategic prob-

Break Between Iran And Britain Patched

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Britain and Iran announced resumption of diplomatic relations today following a break of more than 13 months as a result of the dispute over Iranian nationalization of properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

First announcement of the move, forecast earlier by informed Iranian sources, was made by an Iranian government spokesman.

A communiqué issued shortly afterward in London, said with the exchanging of ambassadors Britain and Iran "will proceed at the earliest mutually agreed moment to negotiate a settlement of the oil dispute which has recently clouded relations."

The Iranian acceptance came despite strong internal opposition, particularly on the part of Ayatollah Kashani, a powerful Moslem religious leader. British envoys had been ousted from the country in Oct. 1952 by former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

The ex-dictator was kicked out of the premiership in a royalist coup last August. He is now being tried on treason charges by an Iranian army court martial.

Announcement of resumption of relations had been expected since a group of leading Iranians—including former Cabinet ministers, senators and top businessmen—approved the move at a meeting earlier this week.

Champion Steer Gets Chicago Hotel Room

CHICAGO (AP)—Lone Star, the grand champion 1,005-pound steer of the International Livestock Exposition, will go on display in a special suite (stall) at the Congress Hotel Sunday.

Queen Elizabeth II watched the antics Friday from the bridge as King Neptune came aboard to hold court. Neptune—Inspector Frank Kelley the duke's personal body guard—was quickly doused in the swimming pool, long white beard and all. But his green-robed queen fought off attempts to snatch her cabbage bouquet.

Charges were read against more than a dozen members of the royal household and staff. The Queen and duke were exempt from the Shellback initiation, however, because they had crossed the Equator before.

The training course, he said, includes establishment of priority and dispatching controls for civil defense, necessary industrial and military vehicles.

The world-touring Gothic, enroute to New Zealand and Australia from the Panama Canal, crossed the Equator in mid-Pacific.

Problem Boy Sought North Of Newberry In Double Murder

NEWBERRY (AP)—Sheriff Russell W. Hild said today a murder warrant would be issued against a 16-year-old problem boy in the robbery-slayings of a Luce County woman and her motel caretaker.

Hild said Holton was expected to provide more information when he returned here from Jackson Mich. today.

Milton, an avid sportsman and outdoorsman, was sought by police in the brutal shooting of Mrs. Celeste Holton, 52, and Robert Milton, 67, in this Michigan north woods country.

Deer Rifle Used

Hild said Prosecutor Thomas S. Worsham would request the warrant of Justice Fred W. Becks to day.

The Luce County sheriff said that Smith was sought since "every angle leans right toward him."

Mrs. Holton and the caretaker were found Friday at a motel operated by Mrs. Holton and her husband, Alvin Sr., for hunters and fishermen on lonely Luce County Rd 407, between Newberry and Deer Park on Lake Superior.

Both were shot twice through the head with a 30-30 deer rifle.

Hild said the slayer had robbed Mrs. Holton of $60 in cash and a $47.50 pension check. Milton's missing billfold was thought to contain $150.

Chicagoan Denies He Was Red In State Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—Val. R. Lorwin, one-time State Department official indicted on charges of falsely denying Communist party membership, has denied the charges as "wholly false," and said he welcomes a "hearing in open court."

Lorwin, 46, now at the University of Chicago as an assistant professor of social sciences and industrial relations, made his comment Friday night after his indictment by a federal grand jury in Washington.

The indictment charges that Lorwin lied under oath before a State Department loyalty board on Dec. 20, 1950.

The indictment was handed down under a federal statute prohibiting a false statement to a government representative. The maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine or five years imprisonment.

Lorwin served in the Office of Strategic Services during World War II. A native of New York and graduate of Cornell and Ohio State Universities, he entered government service in 1935 as an economist.

World Conquest Remains Major Aim Of Kremlin

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, President Eisenhower and French Premier Laniel have indicated agreement that the Western Powers must accept any opportunity for sincere talks with the Soviet Union on great issues, authoritative sources said today.

Outlining positions taken by the Western Big Three at their initial Bermuda session Friday night, informed diplomats said differences expressed principally involved questions of emphasis.

Tactics Changed

Churchill reportedly told his colleagues the West should seek every opportunity to open up more contacts with the new rulers of Russia at every level.

Eisenhower was understood to have described the basic American view as: While tactics of the Kremlin have changed since Stalin's death, Russia's major aims of Communist world conquest remain unchanged under Premier Georgi Malenkov.

In the spirit of basic agreement that the interests of world peace demand willingness to talk over important questions with the Russians the Big Three approached consideration of a reply to Moscow on its acceptance of a Big Four foreign minister's meeting in Berlin.

Date Not Settled

A draft of the note has been completed for initial action by Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

In addition to the Russian note, Eisenhower, Churchill and Laniel may consider Far Eastern issues, among which future policies toward Red China, the Korean peace situation and recent Red hints at peace possibilities in Indochina stand out.

Delta May Get $9,000 Yearly From Pipeline

Delta County may have an additional $9,000 income to apply to its 1955 budget because of the presence of about 38 miles of oil pipeline within its boundaries.

The state tax commission has recommended that the pipeline be assessed on a basis of $6.13 a foot. Delta County, with about 38 miles of pipeline, has about 200,000 feet. The pipeline runs through Garden, Nahma, Masonville, Baldwin and Maple Ridge Townships and may just touch the corner of Brampton Township, County Road Engineer William Karas said.

Delta County now gets 7.5 mills of the 15 mills it is allowed to tax its property owners. The schools get the other 7.5 mills.

The pipeline will appear on the 1954 tax levy, Guy Knutson, finance chairman of the county board of supervisors, said. Revenue coming from it will first be available for use in the 1955 budget.

If the Delta County Tax Allocation Board allocates the 15 mills next year on the same basis as this year—that is, 7.5 mills to the county, 7.5 mills to the schools—then the county and the schools will each receive an additional revenue of about $9,000.

The additional money would mean partial alleviation of the county's budget problems. The county tried vigorously this past year to get a larger share of millage than 7.5, saying at that rate it would be over $30,000 in the red by the end of 1954. It appealed the Tax Allocation Board's decision to the state tax commission, which turned the county down after a hearing in the Courthouse Oct. 16.

School Children At Curtis Start Forestry Project

CURTIS — The Portage Township School in Curtis has joined the reforestation program in Michigan. The school children have a 40-acre tract of land located in Section 10 of Portage Township, Mackinac County.

The property, approximately five miles from the school, was recently purchased from the Lands Division of the Conservation Department by the school board for the purpose of extending the forestry program and outdoor education.

Nearly all the children in the school participated in the planting of the 1,500 red pine seedlings for the first year schedule. The actual planting was done by hand and by the older boys, although the usual "sidewalk superintendents" were evident, including the newly formed forestry committee consisting of Harry L. Wikham, chairman; Joseph Drust and Mervin Clark.

Records of growth, mortality and the general progress are being kept for future reference and comparison.

The children are looking forward to the next planting which will probably take place in the spring, covering another portion of the tract with approximately 2,000 additional trees of different species. The land is ideal for varied types of pine and spruce and was selected only after several locations were checked.

Two Injured As Cars Overtake

MANISTIQUE — Two Delta County men were treated at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital early this morning for injuries suffered by them when their cars rolled over.

Hjalmer Larson of Nahma sustained an injured right arm, hand and thigh when the car he was driving rolled over on county road 495, three miles from US-2 at 12:15 a.m. today. Larson, who was traveling north, is still receiving treatment at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, Manistique.

Michigan State Police ticketed him for not having an operator's license and failure to have his car under control. Details of the accident have not been fully established as yet.

John Adams, 64, of Garden was treated and released from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital after a car in which he was a passenger rolled over. Another Garden man, John Sopke, was the driver of the vehicle in which Adams was injured.

The accident occurred a quarter mile south of Garden Corners at 12:15 a.m. today on Delta county road 483. The car was owned by George Hussey of Garden. The state police report has not been completed.

Manistique Boy, 11, Is Struck By Car

MANISTIQUE — An 11-year-old boy, George Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, 119 River St., was hit by a car at 9:20 p.m. Friday in front of his home. He is receiving treatment at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for scalp lacerations and multiple contusions.

The boy was hit by a car driven by Ronald Demars, 18, of Cooks. Demars, who was alone in the car, told Manistique city police that he did not see the pedestrian in time to stop. Police are continuing the investigation.

A brother of George Fish, Berne, also was with him, but he was not injured.

Willow Run Sale To GM Complete

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and Kaiser Motors Corp. announced Friday completion of GM's purchase of Kaiser's Willow Run plant for $26,000,000.

At the same time Kaiser announced payment of $26,700,000 on its debt to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This, Kaiser said, reduced its debt to the government to $18,456,000 from a one-time peak of $74,789,843.

The $700,000 in excess of the GM payment for the Willow Run factory, Kaiser said, came from $15,000,000 in new capital from private banking sources. It added that the loan was made "with the assistance of the Henry J. Kaiser Company."

Kaiser Motors also announced it was moving its headquarters auto manufacturing to Toledo, Ohio. Kaiser now owns Willys Motors and said production of Kaiser and Willys vehicles would be carried on simultaneously at Toledo.

General Motors will manufacture automatic transmissions at the big plant in suburban Willow Run. It was originally built by the late Henry Ford to manufacture World War II bombers.

Statistics Show Life In Escanaba

Forty-seven babies were born in Escanaba in October 1953, and 10 persons died.

Originating here were 604 pounds of air mail, and 530 pounds of air express. The post office took in $16,076. And three building permits were issued, their value totaling $11,750.

These are figures culled from the November Business Barometer of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, which gives a statistical picture of conditions here during October.

The Business Barometer also contained a breakdown of Delta County retail sales for the month of July, when retail totaled $3,117,600. That figure broke down this way: automotive, $695,700; apparel, $82,100; building materials, $241,900; food, $1,157,300; furniture, $113,700; general merchandise, $392,700; miscellaneous, $342,200.

July retail sales were thus considerably higher than retail sales in Dickinson County ($2,003,900), and above those in Chippewa County ($2,882,400), but more than a million dollars less than July retail sales in Marquette County ($4,326,700).

tion that attempted coercion of Allies would endanger free world unity in the face of the Soviet menace.

Late Friday, Assn. Presidential Press Secretary Murray Snyder said 1,500 telegrams had been received up to 3 p.m. (CST) as well as about 50 letters. He said he would announce today how many favored McCarthy and how many upheld Eisenhower and Dulles.

But McCarthy challenged these figures.

He said he had learned that 2,087 telegrams had been delivered by midnight the night before, and that many hundreds more were delivered during the day. He said he also had learned there was a mounting backlog of about 1,700 other messages at the Western Union office.

The paper asked readers to telephone if they wished their names signed to the following letter:

"Dear Mr. President: We supported you before and we do now. We still like Ike."

In keeping with its independent position in politics, the Blade offered to forward also any messages approving Sen. McCarthy's stand.

The final score at midnight was: 9,870 signatures for Ike; 324 for McCarthy, for a total of 10,194.

The implication was that the Malenkov government is more largely occupied than its predecessor with internal difficulties.

Churchill, asked by Eisenhower to speak next, said he thought the West must remain alert and strong and not lower its guard. He expressed the view, however, that some basic changes have occurred in Russia since Stalin's death and the new rulers have many internal problems.

Firm Line Essential

Churchill added that the Western powers should seek every opportunity to develop more contacts with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov and other Russian leaders at all levels in order to make the most of what he evidently regards as a still potentially hopeful situation.

Eisenhower took the line in his comments that there has been no change in the basic Russian aim of world conquest despite the changes in Kremlin personalities. He saw the possibility of switches in Soviet tactics but obviously felt a very firm line was necessary in the West's relations with the Russians.

The official spokesman said the question of a top-level meeting with Malenkov was not raised. Churchill has repeatedly said he thought such a session could be productive.

ITEMS, which were in need of resolution, have been brought to conclusion by the new joint chiefs within the framework of the revised organizational concept.

A change in the Air Force's spare engine system, he said, is saving about 100 million dollars a year and adoption of commercial maintenance practices will save another 23 million.

"Such savings are going into more power," he said in reporting that Air Force now expects to get 115 wings instead of 110 by 1954 and 120 instead of 115 by 1955.

Both the Army and Navy also were credited with large savings, especially through reductions in civilian personnel.

Escanaba Teenagers Present Their Views On Issue Of 'Going Steady'

By JOAN DE SHAMBO
 "School days, school days,
 Good old golden rule days,
 Reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic,
 Taught to the tune of the hickory stick.
 You were my barefoot bashful
 beau,
 I was your girl in calico,
 I wrote on your slate, I love you so,
 When we were a couple of kids."

Generations change, styles change, methods change, the barefoot beau is now shod in white bucks or navy sueds, and instead of calico, the gals are wearing orange skirts and sweaters, but one thing never changes—that is high school students madly in love.

In dating, there are several different stages: one, supervised groups in which there is a pairing off; two, cliplike gang groups of both boys and girls; three, coke dates or the "being walked home from school" stage; four, going together, a boy and girl showing preference for each other over a period of time; five, groups of several couples going places together, and six, going steady (status as a couple taking precedence over everything).

Of these stages, going steady is one of the most controversial topics about teenagers today. In one family, three or four different opinions on going steady may be harbored.

In interviews with high school students of both Escanaba Senior High School and St. Joseph High School, many well founded opinions pro and con to the subject were given. Of course, some of these opinions have been changed by individuals whose status in the dating field has altered recently.

Times Have Changed

Going steady in these days of 1953 does not have the same implications as when the present day parents of teenagers were in high school. Then steady dating was a sure indication of a forthcoming formal announcement of an engagement, but times have changed.

The present generation, at least in Escanaba, thinks of going steady as a general term for phenomenon that has really no more to do with diamond rings and such than holding hands has to do with a silver wedding anniversary.

As a group of high school students emphatically stated while sipping cokes at one of their favorite hangouts, "Going steady is an expression which has no serious meaning attached, as far as high school kids go. It's just a matter of going places with someone you think is tops at the present moment. Also it is very convenient when it comes to lack of funds—a fellow can just go over to his girl's house and watch TV."

The going steady state is temporary, casual, unofficial and has no vows or pledges accompanying it. It is simply a non-serious way for a boy and girl to enjoy themselves, only more substantially and more deeply.

Exciting Experience

When a fellow and a girl have so much fun dating once a month, that as one boy said, "We can have twice as much fun dating twice as often."

Survey In School Class

During the classes of sociology at Escanaba Senior High School, a survey of the senior students taking sociology, numbering 96, was taken. This survey, although not accurate and deciding, gives a rough estimate on dating and going steady. Through this survey, it was found that 11 of the girls go steady while 14 of the boys also have that status. Others of the class were found to have 21 girls having ordinary dates and 33 boys having ordinary dates. Two senior girls and four senior boys had never dated yet. The factor attributing to more senior boys than girls going steady is the popular trend for older boys to date younger girls, senior boys thrilling junior and sophomore girls.

Frank opinions of a few high school students are:

"Going steady is nice when you want to date, otherwise it holds you down too much."

"I like it, always sometime to go."

"I don't like it, a guy always has to go out with his girl. He never has time for the boys anymore."

"It has its advantages, but when a nice looking girl comes along who you would especially like to meet you can't take her out because your steady would get mad. Incidentally, I go steady."

"Wouldn't want to go steady and be with the same boy all the time. I like a variety."

"I'm a woman hater."

"Going steady is fine after high school graduation, then you know what you're looking for."

"It's wonderful to be going steady with someone you like."

"Going steady is good date insurance."

"You get in a rut when you go steady and it's always hard to break up."

"One of the deciding factors about going steady is that in this day and age teenagers don't have to make any elaborate arrangements to carry it off—there is nothing formal about it. It just happens, almost accidentally, as one girl described it. She said that a fellow or girl simply discover one evening that they aren't going out with other boys and girls much any more. It's casual, completely spontaneous."

Sense Of Achievement

There are more important reasons for going steady than just the fun of it. Teenagers enjoy it because they have a partner for all activities. It enables them to learn about the other person fully (find out, for sure, what they like or don't like about one another). It gives them a "sense of achievement" and it is a more illuminating, more fulfilling and less shallow experience than not going steady.

For these reasons and many others, some parents are beginning to look at the whole thing in a new light. They see it as a fine and wholesome thing. But many parents still object to their offspring going steady. When they put a damper on their teenager's current infatuation and refuse their son or daughter to date this heart interest, they offer their children "forbidden fruit." This makes them only see that person as twice as desirable, a group of high school students stated.

If parents would not object to going steady, their teenagers would be able to find out for themselves what a dope—first class or really sound person the subject of their infatuation is. Quite a few parents still say with best interests in the world, "Go steady? I never heard of such nonsense, just keep going out with a lot of boys." This keeps many youths avoiding the and-me arrangement.

Reasons Against

The teenagers feel that going steady gives them a sound comparative basis in which to evaluate the people that they will meet later on. They have the opinion that the best way to learn that the stamp for an ordinary letter is different than it is for a Special Delivery.

There also are reasons against going steady. It lessens opportunity for exploring the field. It limits the scope of the teenagers' self-understanding because they respond differently to different people, and it may create the uncomfortable problem of one taking the other too seriously.

Since many good things come to an end, there is a definite problem in breaking off with a steady. Several different teenagers presented their methods.

'Love 'Em and Leave 'Em'

One fellow prefers the "love 'em-and-leave 'em" method, whereby hurts are inflicted on both the jilted girl and on himself. A senior girl liked the "agonizing discussion" way, where hopes rise and fall sometimes for months, lending a dull, long ache instead of a quick sharp pain.

Most of the fellows and girls felt the "easing off" method the best, where both parties know what is happening and adjust to the situation before the bond is severed.

When a fellow and girl have been going steady for several months and they begin to tire of each other, but feel they must see each other rather than sit at home by the fire, the arguments begin.

As one little blond stated, when the fighting starts, the fun is going. Both the fellow and girl should sit up and look around for new horizons, especially when that new horizon is the president of the student council or the curly haired cheerleader who puts the basketball team on its feet.

If one of the two involved gets hurt in the process of breaking up, he or she should quickly find another dancing partner when the band stops playing the sweetest music this side of heaven. It will chase away the blues, and the fellow or girl may be surprised at the outcome was what the most of the teenagers interviewed volunteered.

He cut most of the trees himself and hired a man to haul them to Chicago. The haulage, $35, was the biggest item of expense. He cut most of the trees himself and hired a man to haul them to Chicago. The haulage, $35, was the biggest item of expense. The "trees sold like hot cakes" and little time was wasted in disposing of them.

"I've handled trees ever since I was a kid and when you've spent two or three months of every year handling something associated with Christmas—dealing with people all pepped up over the coming holidays . . . kids coming to look on and older folks standing around sniffing at the spruce . . . well, you just catch some of the feeling that goes with Christmas yourself."

Sale Of Yule Trees Is Interesting Business

By JAMES R. LOWELL
 In spite of the fact that the harvest and sale of Christmas trees is a cold business proposition involving plenty of headaches, R. T. Jurmu, 1601 Lakeshore Drive, is sentimental toward it.

"I've handled trees ever since I was a kid and when you've spent two or three months of every year handling something associated with Christmas—dealing with people all pepped up over the coming holidays . . . kids coming to look on and older folks standing around sniffing at the spruce . . . well, you just catch some of the feeling that goes with Christmas yourself."

Sizes Vary Greatly

Buyers are not much concerned with the species of trees, he said, although when he is asked which kind "smells the nicest," he shows them balsam trees. Swamp spruce, he says, are the most inclined to be thickly limbed but more yellow than upland spruce. A variety termed by woodsmen as shellbark has short needles somewhat similar to hemlock and is delicately limbed. Another variety known as "Cat Spruce," has long needles similar to those of jackpine, the needles even appearing on the trunk down to the base.

Germfask School Debt Is $4,000

Germfask township school district is indebted for approximately $4,000 for repairs to the 45-year-old school building and textbooks, Neil McEachern, president of the township school board, said today.

The 250 voters in the school district will go to the polls Dec. 14 to decide in a special election whether or not five mills should be levied on the township's assessed valuation of $360,750, to provide additional revenue to meet school expenses.

The tax millage increase, McEachern said, would increase school funds by $3200, and extra help will be obtained from the state if possible.

Over 100 Students

The greater part of the schools debt consists of $1,000 for re-roofing the school; $1,400 for installing a new boiler and furnace and enclosing it with cement blocks; and an $1800 bill for books.

The debt has been accumulating during the past three years. McEachern stated. Some of the added costs of the school also are due to slight enrollment increases, the board president added.

Germfask township has over 100 students in its one school, and employs a staff of five teachers and operates three buses. Teachers have an average of 28 to 29 students each, except in kindergarten, where one teacher has 36 to 38 students.

One School Sold

The township sends 27 students to Manistique High School, and operates its own school for grades K-8.

The township, which has the lowest valuation in the county, has been assessing 15 mills, of which 10 is for the county and five for schools.

Some additional revenue was obtained, McEachern noted, when the south school building was sold for $400.

The Germfask school board is comprised of McEachern, Vern Lloyd, secretary; Walter Burns, treasurer; and Mrs. Oral Lawrence and Mrs. Ole Hartman, trustees.

Most Over 15 Mills

Hiawatha and Germfask townships are the only political units, in the county assessing 15 mills. All other townships and the City of Manistique assess greater amounts, ranging from 18 to 20 mills per thousand of valuation.

Doule township levies an additional five mills for a school sinking fund. Inwood township levies 3.5 mills for school debt service, Mueller township levies 1.5 mills for school lunches, Seney township levies an additional five mills for schools, and Thompson township levies three mills, in addition to the regular 15 mills, for school operating expenses. The city of Manistique levies an added 3.5 mills for school construction and repair.

Last month, Manistique township in a special election voted to increase its millage five mills for five years for a school sinking fund.

Stolen Car Halted Here

A Marquette youth and two teen-age girls from Flint were apprehended in stolen car here Friday night by State Police in cooperation with city police.

Manistique police were alerted when Morris Baker of Naubinway reported to Newberry state police that the trio had purchased $3 worth of gasoline at his station and drove away without paying.

The youth is Fred Gerlach Jr., 18, of Marquette. Both he and the teen-age girls were placed in Schoolcraft county jail Friday and will probably be remanded to Flint authorities.

According to state police, Gerlach was to appear in Flint Thursday in municipal court, and has a previous record of arrests for breaking and entering and auto theft. He was under bond for appearance on a charge of statutory rape, police said.

The youths, police report, stole a 1951 coupe in Flint, and drove to Fort Wayne, Ind. They stayed in a hotel there for better than a day, after the car, stolen in Flint developed mechanical trouble. They then stole a 1952 coach and were enroute to Marquette when apprehended here. Police said they also bought gas and failed to pay in Birch Run, Mich.

State police here radiod city police to assist in apprehending the three, and city police stood guard at the Arbutus and Maple intersection while a state police car followed the stolen car here.

The youths were stopped and arrested in front of the state police post. They offered no resistance, police said.

Wisconsin TV Channels Listed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission Friday assigned television channel 6 to Whitefish Bay, Wis., giving the Milwaukee area its third very high frequency VHF channel for commercial stations.

The Hearst Corp., backed by the Milwaukee Common Council, had urged the new channel allocation. Hearst, which operates Milwaukee radio station WISN and publishes the Milwaukee Sentinel, has indicated it will apply for a channel 6 station.

Whitefish Bay is a northern suburb of Milwaukee.

The commission also assigned Marquette, Mich., channel 6, in place of channel 5 and Green Bay, Wis., channel 5 in place of channel 6.

The commission said these changes were made necessary by the assignment of channel 6 to Whitefish Bay. Marquette keeps its assignment of channel 17 and Green Bay's channel 2 also has not been changed.

Apple Growers Have Good Year

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Producers attending the annual Michigan State Horticultural Society reported a good 1953 crop yield.

Michigan apple growers said a good 1953 crop, for the second consecutive season, is being sold at favorable prices or being held in storage and expected to bring good prices later.

In the face of a cherry crop larger than last year, movement of frozen cherries as well as those packed in cans was satisfactory, according to T. C. Stebbins of Grand Rapids, secretary of the Michigan Cherry Commission.

Producers of other small fruits likewise reported a good year. Growers estimated the Michigan blueberry crop will bring more than $2,000,000 this year.

Peach growers alone told of reverses. They blame unseasonably warm weather in September for early ripening and reduced yield. However, these growers had other crops which brought in prices to offset to some extent any loss on peaches.

Printed Word Missed In New York Strike; City Feels Great Void

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the power of the press?

Empty newsstands this week taught the world's greatest city the answer.

Millions of New Yorkers learned that their favorite newspaper, like their wife, was something they had taken for granted—something they now really appreciate for the first time because it was no longer there for them to depend on.

They missed the daily rendezvous with their daily newspaper, and nothing could quite take its place. A strike that silenced every major paper in the city for the first time in its history left holes, large or small, in every life.

Can't Gap

People discovered anew the importance of the printed word—the daily printed word. Television and radio reporters worked overtime to tell the news, but the spoken word didn't fill the gap left by the silent presses. Nothing could do all the things a daily newspaper does.

"Tell me what is happening. I want to know what is really going on. Even if most of the news is bad, I guess I want to know it. It makes me restless when there isn't a newspaper in the house."

I suppose this experience was typical in thousands of homes. The feeling of uneasiness deepened with each day of the strike. A newspaper is a mirror that reflects and fulfills many needs, and who likes to go day after day without looking in mirror?

As a newspaperman, I found it odd to listen to the comments of readers on how the strike affected their personal lives.

"My worst enemy could drop dead and I wouldn't know it," mourned a confirmed reader of the obituary page.

"How can I find out what my competitors are doing?" grumbled a businessman. "And what's going to happen to my Christmas business if I can't place an ad?"

No Place For Gripes

The letters-to-the-editor writers had no forum for their gripes. Housewives didn't like doing without their beauty hints, or the lover-on editor's advice on how to deal with a middle-aged wayward husband.

The civic leaders held up announcements. Broadway gossip was better known in Dubuque.

Jet Pilots Leap; Lucky To Survive

MT. CLEMENS (AP) Two Air Force fliers who survived a jet plane collision at 23,000 feet and 550 miles an hour admitted that they were lucky to be alive.

The two came down—unharmed—after their F86D Sabres bumped bellies on turns Thursday and crashed to earth in the Port Huron area.

Ejector mechanisms operated with explosives, saved the pilots.

Capt. Henry W. Jones, 41, of Phenix City, Ala., and Lt. Robert L. Bass, 23, of Laurel, Neb. Both parachuted safely.

Each plane normally carries 24 rockets. Neither was armed Thursday, however. The two were demolished when they crashed.

Two pilots said they acted from a combination of instinct and training in the few seconds available to them to save their lives.

"I tightened my safety belt, disconnected my oxygen mask and radio lines and jettisoned the airplane canopy. Then I pushed the ejection button and woosh, I was out," said Capt. Jones.

"I got my safety belt unbuckled and the seat fell away. Then I pulled the rip cord."

Bass forgot to unhook his oxygen and radio lines, but said: "When I pushed the ejection button, they just tore loose."

Farmers helped both Jones and Bass after they landed. A helicopter from Selfridge Field Air Base picked them up and returned them to the base.

"How can I find out what my competitors are doing?" grumbled a businessman. "And what's going to happen to my Christmas business if I can't place an ad?"
